

Ephesians 5:33 reads, "However, each one of you also must love his wife as he loves himself, and the wife must respect her husband."

Respect? Sound a little challenging?

We understand.

Have you ever wondered, "How can I possibly respect my husband?"
Or, "Isn't there MORE to being married?"

There is.

We can show you how what the world teaches about respect and what God teaches are two totally different things.

It's not what you think.

And we'll help you be encouraged, grow stronger, and become more connected to God and your husband.

Spend a weekend with Nina Roesner, author of The Respect Dare and Executive Director for Greater Impact Ministries, Inc.

At this point, I can not grasp all God is doing in my life. The change I see within myself is deep, personally and very much a miracle. God is transforming me each day, changing the way I think about my relationship with Him and my relationship with my husband. God's guidance in teaching me how to look to Him alone for His approval and His affirmation has been the most empowering change from The Respect Dare. ~ Kim Sparks, Participant

There are few moments when I wish I were female, still less when I wish I were a wife! However, the continually enthusiastic reports I have gotten back from women who have taken Nina Roesner's courses have made me wish I could attend! I am grateful for the work God is doing through Greater Impact Ministries in the lives of women who desire to become godly wives. It is making a significant difference in their lives individually and in their marriages! ~ Pastor Dick Lehman, Faith Church

Come meet this challenge and watch your marriage and spiritual life transform.

The Respect Dare Weekend with Nina Roesner, is a retreat experience like no other.

Nina is an excellent teacher and communicator. Her classes are always fresh and interesting, I looked forward to each class and always left feeling encouraged and empowered. She has a way of bringing out the best in your abilities and she encourages you to work towards reaching your goals.

Through Nina's classes, I learned how to transfer knowing what respect means to applying respect to my relationship with my husband. ~ Laura Hoeverner, Participant
